Questionnaire Gives Opinion Of College On Varied Subjects

Yeomans, Omwake Voted Most Representative Undergraduates

CHANGES APPROVED IN COLLEGE RULES

General Election Day Plan, Prohibition Repeal, and Health Tax Favored

The Middlebury College student body recorded its vote on twenty-three questions concerning individuals on this campus, changes in administrative regulations, and national politics last Thursday in the annual CAMPUS questionnaire. Tabulated results are printed on page 6.

All of the eight questions on campus individuals resulted in the choice of seniors. George E. Yeomans and Mary K. Omwake won the title of most representative undergraduate in each college. Donald B. MacLean and Miss Omwake were voted the outstanding athletes at Middlebury. Edward Yerow and Amy Niles scored a majority as outstanding non-athletes. The popularity ballot selected Yeomans and Virginia A. Kent.

The general election day plan for this campus was supported by a vote of 304 to 216. For the first time in the history of the questionnaire, the campus favored the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, and a change in the college drinking rule to emphasize conduct. There was the usual landslide in the men's college for Dutch dates, with an almost equal and opposite swing by the women.

An increased health tax was approved, but the Kaleidoscope on term bills was defeated. Sororities should be permitted to pass out of existence this spring, according to 326 to 180.

While 312 students have made definite vocational choices, Middlebury has affected the decision of only 158.

Undergraduate President Will Be Elected Tuesday

A meeting of the undergraduate association for the purpose of electing the president for the coming year will be held in McCullough gymnasium Tuesday evening at 7:15.

Three candidates have been nominated for this position by a committee of seniors chosen for that purpose. They are: Charles N. DuBois, Douglas L. Jocelyn, and Norman L. Melbye, all members of the junior class. No proxies will be allowed for these elections.

The president of the undergraduate association is the chief executive office in all activities of the men's college. He is also, ex-officio, chairman of the student council and a member of the student life committee.

The other officers of the organization are elected by the student council from its own membership in the fall.

Calloway Band Is Expected To Play For Senior Ball

Colored Orchestra, Led By Cab's Sister, to Come From Chicago

DANCE TO BE HELD IN GYMNASIUM JUNE 12

Plans for Class Day and Other Features of Week Near Completion

Jean Calloway and her twelve piece band, fresh from triumphs in Chicago and the middle west, are expected to play at the senior ball June 12. Final arrangements have not yet been completed but negotiations have been going on and Henry L. Newman, chairman of senior week, anticipates success.

Jean Calloway, younger sister of Cab, the famed Harlem rhythm king, brings with her twelve negro artists from the windy city. Working in cooperation with Hamilton college, Newman has arranged a series of five engagements for the band, and is thus able to meet the heavy price required.

Other arrangements for senior week are rapidly nearing completion. Announcements have been ordered and are nearly ready for delivery. All the traditional features of class day will be retained.

Caps and gowns are being rented by the class organization this year, a large surplus in the treasury making this possible. Seniors are requested to wear them to chapel Sunday, May 21, and on campus throughout the following week.

Blue Key Society to Hold First Formal Dance May 27

Blue Key society will hold the first annual formal dance in its history Saturday evening, May 27, according to announcement last night by Proctor M. Lovell '33, committee chairman.

This formal will be of an exclusive nature, limited solely to members of Blue Key and their guests.

Assisting Lovell in making final arrangements for the dance are Thomas J. Duffield '33, Stephen C. Hoyle '33, H. Alan Painter '33 and George T. Siipola '33. They have engaged the Black Panther orchestra to furnish music.

A committee was also appointed last night to superintend the sophomore-freshman rope pull Friday morning of junior week. This group is composed of Thomas R. Noonan '34, Victor J. Riccio '34 and Walter E. Boehm '35.

Panthers To Meet State Rivals Here

Team to Play Vermont and Norwich in Two Contests On Junior Week Program

The varsity baseball team will play two state series games at Porter field as part of the junior week program, meeting Vermont Thursday and Norwich Saturday.

The Panthers, smarting from the recent defeat at the hands of U. V. M. and St. Michael's, are especially anxious to hit their stride and balance their state contest ledger by winning both contests this week. After playing careless ball afield and failing to drive back the offerings of Layden, thereby losing to the Catamounts by a 4-0 count; the Blue and White players displayed a reversal of form to easily set back Springfield by the score of 7-2. Coach Nelson's men then lost a loosely played game to St. Michael's to lessen

1934 Junior Week Activities To Begin Thursday Afternoon

Smith Ballew's Orchestra Engaged to Play for Prom Friday

OPEN HOUSE DANCES WILL BE SATURDAY

Interfraternity Stunts Are Scheduled to Be Given Tomorrow Night

The 1934 junior week will be launched tomorrow at 12:30 when the last morning class is dismissed. For a period of four days the college will celebrate this annual event with athletic contests, social events, and a welcome vacation from lecture and laboratory.

Tapping of the 1934 Waubanakee papooses on Porter field at 2:15 will be the first feature of the program, followed by a baseball game with Vermont, a tennis match with Boston university, and the junior tea dance at the Inn at 4. Tomorrow night fraternity wit will shine across the gymnasium footlights in the variety show.

Freshman-sophomore wrangling will come to a head Friday morning with a rope pull in front of the gymnasium at 9:30. "Middlebury Memorabilia", latest extravaganza in campus movies, will be released at the playhouse an hour later. At 2:30 the interfraternity track meet will be run off on Porter field, while Blue and White racqueteers are repelling Vermont on the Hepburn courts.

Friday night, beginning at 9 o'clock, Smith Ballew, with thirteen artists and a genuine blues singer, will make music for the 1934 junior promenade at the Inn. Kay Kyser, originally contracted, has accepted an engagement on the Pacific coast, and will supply the popular New York orchestra to take his place. The Radio Corporation of America guarantees the performance of Smith Ballew, who comes direct from the Hotel Lexington.

"Fashion" Will Be Repeated Tonight

Junior Play is Designed to Reflect Mode of Acting In Period It Represents

The second presentation of "Fashion" will be given at the playhouse tonight at 8:15. The first performance was given last night and was well received by a large audience.

This performance has been designed to give the production in the theatre tradition of the day. It is a serious effort to reflect the acting mode without the use of burlesque and is an attempt to stage the play in accordance with the custom of the period which it represents.

The various scenes are taken from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany. Between the acts are several songs, "Walking Down Broadway", "Il Etait une Bergere", "Call Me Pet Names" and "Don't Swat Your Mother". They are sung by members of the cast.

Costuming and designing are maintained in the manner prevalent at the time at which the play was originally presented, the first production being given in 1850.

At commencement the play will be presented twice as a part of the senior week program.

The production is being staged under the direction of Prof. V. Spencer Goodreds, assisted by Emery Hutchins '34.

INTERLUDE

The curtain rises tomorrow at noon on the 1934 edition of the annual Junior Week. The regular college routine will be called backstage until Monday morning, and a whirl of social activities and sports, bright lights and soft music, will take the stage in a representation of student life like that seen only in the Saturday Evening Post and on the screen. The hours ahead hold several new features planned by this year's committee which deserve special recognition and commendation.

Drastic changes in the usual Junior Week program have been effected in order to fit in these new events. This year the celebration is prefaced by a dramatic production which dispels every doubt as to the traditional excellence of the junior play, setting a new precedent in a finished performance, ably executed. It is a successful attempt "to give the performance in the theatre tradition of the day (mid-nineteenth century). . . to reflect the acting mode without burlesque . . . and to stage the play in keeping with the theatre practice of the period." This year's production is conceded to be a most worthwhile introduction to the actual Junior Week program.

Because fraternity informals of a novel nature were felt to be the best possible social climax for this brief interlude at Middlebury, a plan of open-house dances at all the houses was recommended to the student life committee. The ready acceptance and cooperation by that body makes this plan a reality for Saturday night. Past regulations holding couples to one houseparty throughout the evening have been replaced by permission to attend any or all the dances, and the fraternities have taken an excellent further step in the agreement to economize both in music and in attire that evening. Sport dances, with the rhythm of radios and victrolas, are distinctly in keeping with the democratic spirit of Middlebury and with the spirit of the times.

Another noble experiment resulted in the reduction of the promenade tax. It has been formerly a six dollar affair and the man who permitted his guest to share the expense was considered totally lacking in conscience, pride, and even modesty. This year the same dance, in the same ballroom, with an orchestra imported from New York, is presented for five dollars, with the common agreement that all dates made on this campus shall be on a fifty-fifty basis. The net mathematical answer cuts the previous prom cost more than in half. Surely this is a better solution to the average student's financial problems than would be the actual abolition of the dance, as such colleges as Princeton have done this spring!

Junior Week was originally instituted as a special spring period for the entertainment of visitors and prospective students. The CAMPUS takes this opportunity to welcome all guests who will be introduced for the first time this week to the college on the hill, rich in tradition, natural location, and personality. We greet those who know Middlebury and are returning once more for this May festival which crystallizes college loyalities and decorates her campus for full dress parade.

We believe that this year's program, combining as it does the best features of the past with long awaited improvements and innovations, sets a new mark in the achievement of complete enjoyment for the greatest number. Guests and students should all find varied entertainment suiting their special interest in the holiday about to begin.

In spite of the danger of premature praise, we congratulate those under whose direction the 1934 Junior Week has been conceived and brought to life. With the entire college we share their hope that when the curtain rings down Sunday night, it will close up on the most successful production ever presented at Middlebury.

Poking About

—by Doris G. Anderson

Everything in the Old Chapel Room savors of the past, - - everything except the portable blackboard and the papers in the drawer of the desk. Even the chairs are rather old; the initials and class years carved thereon affirm it. The design along the wall is faded and obliterated in spots, and the paint is peeling off the window sills. The boards on the old platform creak and groan, because their years are many and numberless shoes have left nail-marks on their surface. It seems as though the spirit of the past haunting the room stirs the almost invisible cobweb on a brass lamp, and brushes the wings of the dead fly on the window sill.

Even the light of the sinking sun is mellow and old when it finally pierces the half-opened shutters and the window pane, and glows on the varnished ship's steering wheel at the front of the room. This wood and metal instrument is about six feet in diameter, and, as a little round metal trade-plate shows, was built by Williamson Brothers of Philadelphia. It was used in the Spanish-American war to guide the good ship "Vermont". The end of one spoke is broken, and one may conjecture as to how it was snapped off. The wheel was presented to Middlebury College as a souvenir from that war. Another struggle is represented above the wheel by the huge marble memorial on the wall, presented by the class of 1904 to honor the sons of Middlebury College who gave their lives in the Civil war.

Behind the huge door with its old-fashioned lock stands a wood and iron silver-mill which was used by Cyrus Hamlin, president of Middlebury from 1880 to 1885. The machine looks like one of those antediluvian wash-wringers, except that it is taller and narrower. The iron compression-cylinders still turn, but the heavy nuts and bolts that tighten them are rusted fast. The wood upon which it rests is rotted and dry and is reenforced by wire. Mr. Hamlin rolled out sheets of silver with the mill and hammered out spoons and cutlery which he sold in order to pay his way through Bowdoin college.

Concealing the silver-mill in its shade, a dark, antique secretary-desk towers up to one side. This was built by Stephen A. Douglas while he was an apprentice in Middlebury. He was born in Brandon, and there is a story told that when the famous debater was a baby, his father died while holding him, and the baby rolled almost into the fireplace, saved only by the fortunate appearance of one of the neighbors. Behind the glassed doors of Douglas' desk, repose a German helmet and canteen from the World war. Only dust and cobwebs remain in the open drawers and cupboards. The locks on the others are queer-looking but still effective.

Shreds and Patches

—by L. Judson Morhouse

With Junior Week starting tomorrow we hereby impart a bit of our cherished advice to imported females. If you're on a blind date, remember he is too. If he doesn't send you flowers for the Prom don't give that frigid smile for the first two hours. He probably had to borrow money from everyone in the class even to take you. Midd co-eds know this and if they don't, they're some lucky. If you have to walk a little, try to bear it. All the walking you'll do will be relaxation for him after climbing around on this mountain, day in and day out. You quite possibly have been asked because you're a mite better looking than the average. Remember the illusion begins to wear off about Saturday night or Sunday morning unless you have something in that bump behind them rosy cheeks. If he wants to show you Passion Puddle, let him. What's in a name? And lastly, if your telephone rings after your date has bidden you a tender goodnight, lock your door, throw the key out the window and bury your head in the pillows. Heed all this well, and you'll be back for another dance before the year is out.

In this column last week we started and finished a campaign on the language of the brats about town, which brought forth comment from one of the women who has an office in Painter. Charity starts at home and according to afore mentioned comment, some of these days one of you lads is liable to get your mouth washed out with soap.

Thanks to the martyr who threw the pail of water, the whining tenors and gurgling baritones who mixed it up in front of Starr last week didn't sing quite all night. The Otter Valley Hill-Billies were good for a while and the singing was a welcome diversion but even Methuselum loses the old charm after twelve o'clock.

For those who have anything to do with cutting grass on the campus we would like to say that the only way to have grass cut is off. When they get that forest out in front of chapel hacked down we expect to see the dead bodies of all those dogs we've been missing for our morning worship.

The victory over Springfield was a large feather in the caps of the baseball team especially since Springfield nearly upset Vermont. We noticed some of the visitors barging about with Midd co-eds and from all appearances the local talent was appreciated. We have often wondered how a ball player gets to first base and goes about stealing second.

The sign-out sheet in girls dorms has caused us no end of cogitation, especially when the lassies sign out for "entertaining". In the first place, we're not sure that they really are, and in the second place, it looks like the diary of a night club hostess, or the confessions of a chorus girl.

One slightly married couple was nearly scared out of a year's chapel cuts last Saturday night while walking past the grave yard. They were boldly discussing ghosts and had just admitted a rather uneasy feeling at the spookiness of the place by moonlight when suddenly they heard the most unearthly scream that ever came out of one of Lon Chaney's thrillers. One tenth of one second later they were well past fraternity row on the way home.

Our shoe-shopperies had a hard day of it recently trying to find some white shoe blacking for a red-headed customer. No, not black shoe polish, but white shoe blacking. Oh well, live and learn. We never even thought there was any such thing.

So hoop-skirts are back, but only for the play. Some of the lads are complaining already about being born forty years too late. Anyway, it would be a good garb to wear when smuggling a case of scotch into the room, and the only place to hide an Austin safely. Hoops, my dear.

The women's glee club was given a real treat when they went to Waterbury to broadcast last week. Besides being shown through the spacious studios, they watched a typical program. The Bar-X cowboys dashed off a few numbers and from all accounts they looked just like they sound if you're unfortunate enough to have heard.

Introducing a new plan for late news flashes, we have a snazzy bulletin of general interest: The stomach of Angus MacTavish Plimpwalker Pratt no longer drags. (Nice having the CAMPUS printed next door to what house?)

Dr. John M. Thomas Speaker At Vespers

Former President Advises Taking Aim of Life That Psalmist Has Described

Dr. John M. Thomas '90 of Montpelier, former president of Middlebury College, spoke at vespers Sunday. His topic, the aim of life and the means of obtaining it, was based on the first Psalm.

The speaker began by saying that no one asks to be born here, but once born, he has an instinct to prolong his life. Every separate tissue cell works for health and growth. "It is natural, therefore," he added, "that we should calculate as to how long we may live.

"With such a long span before us, it behooves us to make the life adventure good, both for ourselves and for others." Dr. Thomas spoke of the people who find life wonderfully good, and of the honest means of being able to find it so.

"The Psalmist," continued the speaker, "divides all people into two classes, the righteous and the ungodly, and exhorts us to seek the counsel of the godly, which is not to be rejected as an old tradition." The reason is that such principles did not merely happen to be, but have had a long history of trial and error, and it is wise to follow the great "standard moralities".

"As the contractor plans a schedule for building, so must life be planned," advised the speaker, "and the aim must be development of character, not merely the weeding out of hindering forces, but the growth of positive traits."

Samuel Board Concludes Vocational Conferences

Mr. Samuel S. Board, director of the Yale graduate placement bureau, completed his vocational conferences here last Thursday and Friday.

These conferences were arranged primarily for the benefit of those seniors who were unable to secure interviews during Mr. Board's four day visit in January. Individual problems of graduate study, occupations, and employment were taken up.

The vocational adviser came to Middlebury through the efforts of Edgar J. Wiley, director of personnel, and the undergraduate committee on vocational guidance. While in Middlebury last January, Mr. Board gave fifty individual interviews to upperclassmen and conducted a series of talks and discussion groups.

TEN CENTS

The Granger pouch keeps the tobacco fresh

"WELL, it's like this. Back in the old days, when men wore high hats and frock coats, they had plenty of time to think things out, and they had sense, too. They used to sit down on a log and take the time to whittle their tobacco from a plug, to be sure of having a cool smoke.

"In those days, a man named Wellman, right here in Quincy, Ill., made about the best tobacco you could get. He knew how to keep the flavor fine and mellow.

"Well, sir, the people who make this Granger Rough Cut acquired Mr. Wellman's method, and they must have known how the old boys used to whittle their tobacco to make it smoke cool. Yes, sir, this Granger is the real stuff. The same mellowness and fine flavor that Wellman used to hand out to his friends. And it's whittled into big shaggy flakes all ready for the pipe. 'Rough Cut' they call it—'cut rough to smoke cool' is the best way I can describe it.

"Regardless of price, Granger is about the best pipe tobacco I ever smoked. That's why I smoke it, and that's why they call it America's Pipe Tobacco, sir."

Now we wanted to sell Granger for 10¢. It was just a question of how to do it for the price. So we pack Granger in a sensible foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke the package. We give smokers this good GRANGER tobacco in a common-sense pouch for 10¢.

GRANGER has not been on sale very long, but it has grown to be a popular smoke. And there is this much about it—we have yet to know of a man who started to smoke it, who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.

Track Team Scores Over Montreal AAA

Lovell Sets New Record in Javelin Throw as Panther Defeats Canadians 90-45

Scoring eleven first places to four for their opponents, Middlebury's well-balanced track team earned its second victory of the season, drubbing the Montreal A. A. A. team 90 to 45 Saturday at Porter field.

Favored by splendid weather, the meet produced some performances that were extremely creditable for the never-too-favorable track. One record was broken, that by Lester Lovell, who created a new college standard in the javelin throw with a fine heave of 181 feet.

The quarter mile run and the two mile run were the highlights of the meet from a competitive standpoint. In the 440, Hughes of Montreal, one of the best middle-distance men in the Dominion, staged a thrilling dual with Hoxie until the home stretch, when the Canadian weakened and allowed Hoxie to win, with Boehm coming up fast to pass Hughes and just miss catching Hoxie. The time, 52.6, was exceptional for the track.

In the two mile the lead was passed around among Gale of Montreal, Cushman of Middlebury, and Sears, with all three closely grouped until the last lap. On the last circuit Gale held first position, and began to sprint. Following close on his heels was Sears, and the two raced away from the rest of the field. Rounding the last turn the slight form of the bespectacled Sears gathered itself for his bid, and the amazed Gale was passed as though he were standing still, the Panther runner winning easily.

Sweet was a member of the freshman football team and has played varsity basketball for three years. He is captain-elect for 1933-34. He is also on the track team and is Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Whitney played football his freshman year and was on the varsity the past season. He is also a trackman and is affiliated with Chi Psi.

Annual Intramural Track Meet Will Be Held Friday

The annual intramural track meet will be held Friday at Porter field. Preliminaries and semi-finals will take place at 9:30 a. m. and the finals will be run off at 2:30 p. m. Each fraternity may enter three men in each event except the half-mile relay, in which each may enter a team of four men.

Entries must be filed at the office of the director of athletics not later than 5 p. m. Thursday, May 11. Substitutions will be allowed at the start. Trials will be held in the runs and hurdles.

The events making up the meet are: 120 yard dash, 120 yard low hurdles (at high hurdles distance), high jump, shot put, and half-mile relay race. A first place counts five points; second three, and third, one.

Tennis Team To Play Three Matches Here

Netmen Will Meet Boston University, Vermont, and St. Michael's This Week

As their contribution to the Junior Week festivities, the Middlebury tennis team will participate in three home matches in as many days. Tomorrow the Blue and White netmen will meet Boston university, Friday they will play Vermont, and Saturday will bring St. Michael's to the Hepburn courts.

The B. U. match will find the Panthers favored to repeat their victory of last year, despite the fact that the Bostonians are rated as being stronger than last season. Against the Green and Gold racqueteers from U. V. M. Middlebury will be out to avenge two defeats suffered at their hands last year, both by 4-3. This match should again be close.

St. Michael's does not seem to be a very dangerous threat to the Blue and White Saturday. Last season Middlebury defeated the Winoski team, 6-0, and should repeat. Both the Vermont and St. Michael's matches are state contests.

After the Junior Week campaign, the netmen will rest for three days before meeting St. Lawrence next Wednesday, at home. Last year the New Yorkers fell before the Middlebury racquets, and another win seems probable.

In all probability the Blue and White will be represented in the coming matches by the same men who played against Union and R. P. I., with Flagg playing at number one, Captain Allen at two, and LaForce, Rudd, Loomis, and Tierney filling the other positions.

Intramural Baseball

Delta Kappa Epsilon decisively won the intramural baseball championship by defeating Alpha Sigma Phi by a 5-2 score in the finals Monday. The winners had previously defeated Beta Kappa and Chi Psi to qualify for the final. In the battle for third and fourth places Sigma Phi Epsilon yesterday defeated the Chi Psi nine 12-2.

DKE 16 - CP 5

The strong DKE outfit swamped Chi Psi in the semi-final by a 16-5 count last Wednesday. Five runs for DKE in each of the first two frames left little doubt as to the final outcome. The losers' tallies were scattered, although they pounded out eleven hits to the winners' fourteen. MacKenzie was outstanding for DKE with three hits, while Ziegler and Amelung knocked out three each for Chi Psi.

Score by innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7—T
DKE ----------5 5 2 0 0 0 4—16
CP ----------1 0 2 0 2 0 0— 5

Batteries: Goering, House and MacKenzie; Reid, Ziegler and Ziegler, LaBounty. Umpires: Bowker and Wissler.

DKE 5 - ASP 2

Delta Kappa Epsilon clinched its intramural championship by defeating Alpha Sigma Phi 5-2 in a close final Monday. Both outfits played air tight ball for the first two innings. ASP broke the deadlock in the last of the third with the first run of the game. The victors came back strong, however, and crossed the plate five times in the four remaining stanzas. MacKenzie starred for the winners with two singles and a homer, while Lyon knocked out two hits for the ASP outfit. The winners made eight hits to the losers seven.

Score by innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7—T
DKE ----------0 0 0 2 1 1 1— 5
ASP ----------0 0 1 0 0 0 1— 2

Batteries: Goering and MacKenzie; Bona and Benson. Umpires: Bowker and Wissler.

SPE 12 - CP 2

Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated Chi Psi 12-2 yesterday to take third position in the intramural league. Taking advantage of numerous errors, the SPE aggregation started off with five hits and five runs in the first inning, and easily held Chi Psi to two counters. Springstead pitched a fine game for the winners, allowing only six hits. Kelley and Startup were outstanding with three hits each.

Score by innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7—T
SPE ----------5 5 0 0 0 2 0—12
CP ----------0 0 0 0 2 0 0— 2

Batteries: Springstead and DeVries; Scozzafava, Caron and Whitney.

U. V. M. AND NORWICH TO INVADE DIAMOND

further the chances for winning the state championship.

Middlebury's lineup for the approaching games will probably be about the same as that used in recent contests. Barker will probably get the twirling assignment against Vermont Thursday if his injured back is sufficiently recovered. Stefaniak is scheduled to pitch against the Soldiers on Saturday. Either Yeomans or Stevenson may see service at third base and Dumas, Williams and Bakey are fighting for the two outfield positions with Barker or Stefaniak holding down right field.

The Catamounts have played only one game since shutting out the Panthers. Playing steady ball behind Beckley they defeated Springfield by a 7-3 count Saturday to run their winning streak to four games. Layden, the ace of the Vermont pitching staff, will probably be on the mound for the visitors Thursday. He baffled the Midd batters and yielded only three hits in the last encounter and the Panthers will have to get accustomed to his slants in order to win the coming contest.

Little is known about the Norwich team. They lost to Northeastern by a 9-2 count in their only game this season. Comi pitched steady ball for the Cadets, allowing only six hits but his teammates committed nine errors to ruin all chances of victory. If the Norwich players have improved their work in the field they may prove to be dangerous opponents.

Twenty-One Men To Enter E.I.C.A.A. Meet

Prospects for Successful Showing Bright Although Freshmen Not Competing

Coach Brown will take twenty-one men and Manager Newman to Worcester for the E. I. C. A. A. track meet this Saturday. This is a larger squad than has been taken during the past few years, but prospects for a successful showing appear bright.

Freshmen are ineligible to compete in this meet so the Blue and White will be without the services of several athletes who were point winners in the past meets.

Among the teams which will probably compete are Connecticut Agricultural college, Massachusetts State, Rhode Island State, Tufts, Worcester Polytechnic, Norwich, and Middlebury.

MacLean, Lovell, Sears, and Cady appear to be the best bets for Middlebury. MacLean will be especially strong in the high hurdles while Sears should provide plenty of opposition in the distance races. Captain Brown will be handicapped by his bad leg and may not even compete.

The following men are making the trip: Manager Newman, Brown, Jillson, MacKenzie, MacLean, Montgomery, Roberts, Short, Erkkila, Jocelyn, Lovell, Sears, Sweet, Seymour, Watson, White, Boehm, Cady, Hunter, Lombardy, Mathewson, Prochazka, and Whitney.

Panther Swamps Springfield 7-2 But St. Michael's Edges 9-8 Win

The Middlebury College baseball team defeated Springfield 7-2 in the first home game of the season at Porter field Friday. Nicking Elliot for thirteen hits, the Panthers had little difficulty in subduing their highly touted rivals who were able to garner only four hits off Stefaniak.

Captain Hartrey's home run in the sixth inning was the highlight of the game while Zawistoski led the winners' batting attack with three hits in three trips to the plate. Purrington, Springfield catcher, hit a double and a single in four times at bat to score one run for the losers.

Wells opened the game for Springfield with a run on an error. Stevenson evened the score by crossing the plate on a hit by Sorensen. Middlebury's next attack came in the third inning when Hoehn, Barker and Bakey added counters on a double by Bakey and a single by Zawistoski. Hartrey scored on a homer in the sixth and Springfield again counted when Lewis came in on Rappuzzi's fly over center. Bakey and Dumas completed the scoring on a two bagger by Zawistoski.

St. Michael's 9, Middlebury 8

The Blue and White nine met its second disaster in the Green Mountain Conference series by losing to St. Michael's 9-8 in a loosely played contest at Winooski Monday. Although the Panthers picked up twelve hits, Colville kept them scattered well enough to make the scoring difficult.

Scoring three runs by Crosbie, Tionan and Coleville in the first inning, St. Mike's coasted through on the lead adding one run in the second and two in the third and fourth stanzas. Zawistoski scored for Middlebury in the third and fifth innings while Barker started a rally in the eighth which lasted until six more runs had been chalked up for the losers.

PROM TO FEATURE 1934 JUNIOR WEEK

Fraternity breakfasts will be served to brothers and their guests at 9:30 Saturday morning. The annual spring archery tournament will be held on campus at 11, with trophies awarded to the best exponents of Diana.

The most striking innovation of the entire week will take place Saturday evening, when the eight fraternities at Middlebury will entertain at open house dances. Couples will be free to visit any or all houses during the evening, clad in informal sport attire.

The regular Sunday vespers at 5 will have as speaker Dr. Erdman Harris, of Union Theological seminary. The college band plans a concert for Mead chapel steps at 7:30, after which the interfraternity sing will close the 1934 junior week with bars of close harmony.
